

I support XM Radio and other satellite radio companies with their traffic and weather broadcasts. The ability to hear such important information on satellite radio is as important as any other "emergency broadcast system".